

Cowes Literary Festival Rally

11th to 14th October

Northwood House, a magnificent Grade II listed late Georgian manor house set in a 20 acre park, is the main venue and weekend box office for the Literary Festival. Occupying a prime position above Cowes, the star listing is for the House's incredible painted function rooms where the talks take place and it is a short walk away from Cowes Yacht Haven where the boats are moored.

There will be up to 100 authors giving talks about their books including one of our own members – James Hanratty.
